House Cleaning Day BRILLIANT AFFAIR Keeps Managers Busy At Baby Week Show

Boy Scouts Leave Flags at Homes With Child Under One Year-Campaign Now Is in Full

"Bables, bables, bables, all I hear is dreds of flass from the headquarte bables; one wouldn't think there was this morning, and left them at hom where there are bables less than o anything else in the world but babies-" An irate, spectacled, wiry, middleaged woman muttered and sputtered in a corner of the Baby Week Exhibit oms, while a lecturer was talking. One young woman sought to qui House Cleaning Day. The first thing done this morning was bouse cleaning" at the exhibit. Though yesterday was the first day, many the exhibits got badly disarranged, and the exhibits got badly disarranged, and the responsibility for this was laid on the shoulders of youngsters who invaded the rooms in large numbers just after the cirous parade.

The rest of the day the workers were so busy guiding visitors about they did not have time to straighten things out. Consequently, announcement was made this morning that, though the exhibit is about children, it is not primarily for children, and children unaccompanied by parents are not invited. So far the attendance has been largelly of women. A surprisingly large in umber of high school girls and one group from a private school visited the exhibit late yesterday afternoon. But the managers do not want the men neglicular, silt-edged, personal invitations are to be sent through all Goy-eriment departments and to business houses to invite the men to come Friday and realize, for one thing, that taking care of children is a science and an art, and requires as much expert knowledge as does their work downtown.

Today is the "flax day" of Baby Week. Boy Scouts took away hum-year old.

With each flag went this message:

"The Baby Week committee presents your baby with this flag to be displayed from your window Flag Day, Mi v 9, and during the rest of Baby Wee. All homes where there are bables under a year, will rebeive flags to show that all Washington is thinking and working for the best chance for the bables.

"Please keep the flag as one of baby's most treasured possessions to teach its first lesson in patriotim."

By evening several thousand Washington homes will be displaying these flags.

To Give Vaudeville Tea.

One of the most attractive feature of the vaudeville tea to be given Saturday afternoon at the Raleigh Hotel, by ted Daughters of the Confederacy, will be the number of the Imperial Quartet. composed of James K. Young, first tenor; Newton T. Hammer, second Earl Carbaugh, first bass, and J. E. S. Kinfella, second bass. After the vaudeville, from 3 until 4:30 o'clock, dancing will be enjoyed from 5 until 7 o'clock, Miss Nell Rose Bas-

Miss Catherine McClintock, Miss Helena Elliott, Miss Julia Meyer, Mrs. Paul Bartlett, the Misses Patten, the Misses Delane, Mrs. Hugh Wallace, and Miss Sallie Beecher were among the "salesiadies" at the various booths. They were assisted by a corps of children in gay flower costumes; and a number of little girls in riding costumes, who had come on from the horse show were among the interesting figures at the tea.

This afternoon there will be tea and dancura, with Boernstein's orchestra, and the star of the evening's vaudeville entertainment will be Bert Williams, member of the Ziegfeld Follies Company. He will be assisted by Mile. de Holtier, Miss Easly, and Miss Ina Claire.

BISHOP CRANSTO SURE TO BE RETIRE

Votes Down Proposed Age-Limit Change.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. T., May 2.

The general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church has gone on record as opposing any change in the ex-isting church law which requires the retirement of bishops at the quadren-

Hy a vote of 491 to 196, the conferen tabled a resolution offered by Chancellog who sought repeal of the provision which was enacted by the general comerence in 1912. Under the requirements of this law

Bishops Earl Cranston, of Washington; John W. Hamilton, of Boston, and Missionary John C. Hartzell, of Africa would be retired at the present see-Chanceller Day asserted that under the present plan bishops must be re-lieved from service when they have reached from service when they have, reached the age limit, regardless of their ability. He declared that in past years several bishops did not attain their greatest efficiency until they were past seventy-three.

"The law," he said, "retires some of our bishops at the summit of their powers, and leaves others who are ingeficient still in the service."

Dandruff Surely Destroys The Hair

Girls-if you want plenty of thick? beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by sil means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't. It doesn't do much good to try to way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To de liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scale and rub it in gently with the finger tipe. By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it. You will find, too, that, all itching and digging of the scalp will stop and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any ounces is all you will need, no matter simple remedy never falls.-Advt.
